

Hospital Board Takes Action to Acquire Site

The directors of the Washington Township Hospital District on Wednesday evening unanimously adopted a resolution to begin the legal procedure to acquire a hospital site, exercising their power of eminent domain.

The procedure was deemed necessary when the minority group of heirs of the undivided estate on which the site is located protested the offer to sell by the majority heirs.

The district proposes to purchase a 10-acre tract from the Stivers Estate on Santos Road. The offer to sell the tract to the district for $2,000 per acre was made by Edward G. and Anna M. Stivers, who hold approximately three-fourths of the shares of the estate.

William Older, Oakland attorney, appeared at the meeting to register a protest on behalf of the minority group of heirs over the selection of the site.

MANY SITES STUDIED

L. S. Whitaker, president of the board, replied, "We investigated thoroughly a great number of locations. We called upon the Division of Hospitals, the State Department of Public Health and the U. S. Department of Public Health to go over all of the sites with us. It was the unanimous decision of all those agencies and the local board that the Stivers location was the most desirable.

"We did not seek the Stivers property. It was offered to us by two heirs who own three-fourths of the property."

Attorney Older went on to state that he "understood" there are a variety of reasons why there are objections to a hospital being built at that site. He stated that some property owners fear that the area around a hospital might become a commercial center, reducing the residential value of their property.

He stated also that he "understood" that there are some persons who do not want ambulances racing up and down Santos Road blowing their sirens.

PRESENTS PETITIONS

He presented three petitions, bearing a total of 36 signatures under the heading: "We the undersigned home and property owners in this neighborhood do hereby object to the contemplated establishment of a hospital at the proposed site, to wit: A portion of the so-called Stivers Ranch, fronting upon Santos Road."

Some of the heirs of the estate present at the meeting pointed out that they had not been consulted in regard to the purchase of the property, as to its being offered or the price asked.

Older answered his clients' point by stating to the board members: "I know it is not the job of your directors to sort out heirs and bargain with all of them."

RESOLUTION

The resolution adopted by the board following the discussion is as follows: "Resolved that the Board of Directors of Washington Township Hospital District of Alameda County, State of California, (Continued on page 8)

NILES 'OLD TOWN' GOES ON AUCTION BLOCK THURSDAY

The public auction of the 30 parcels of land located in "Old Town" at Niles will be conducted by the city of San Francisco on Thursday, November 15, beginning at 10 a.m.

The parcels will be sold individually on the premises to the highest cash bidders, according to Eugene J. Riordan, director of property for the city.

The total area involved includes 8,847 acres situated between the Oakland-San Jose Highway and the Southern Pacific tracks.

MINIMUM VALUES SET
A minimum value totaling $24,200 has been set on the property, varying on the individual properties from $350 to $2,000 per parcel.

Cash or a deposit check in the full amount of the bid price will be required at the time of the sale. After confirmation, deeds will be prepared and delivered to the purchasers. Taxes and rentals will be pro-rated as of the dates of delivery of deeds by the city, Riordan said.

Five of the parcels are vacant lots and the others are occupied by the homes of residents who own the dwellings and have been paying rent to the city for the use of the land. The existing buildings which are owned by the tenants are excluded from the sale.

3 LOTS NOT OFFERED

Three of the 33 parcels of land owned by the city will not be offered for sale. One is a parcel now under condemnation proceedings by the Alameda County Water District. It is situated along Alameda Creek.

The other two are midway between the Southern Pacific underpass and the road leading from the highway into Niles.

DISTRICT BUYS WATER RIGHTS FROM ELLSWORTH

The last of the remaining unassigned free water rights held by the Ellsworth Estate Company, Niles, have been purchased by the Alameda County Water Company.

The purchase of the agreement to furnish approximately 38,500 gallons of free water per day was completed last week-end.

The free water rights for 100,000 gallons per day was originally assigned to Hattie B. Ellsworth by the Spring Valley Water Company but approximately 61,500 gallons per day of the rights have been deeded to individual property holders who have purchased land from the estate.

These persons will continue to be served free water under the terms of the agreement made with the Ellsworth Estate Company, water district officials said this week.

The purchase price was reported to be $12,500.

Matt Whitfield, engineer for the water district, said this week that one of the reasons for the action was an agreement made with the city of San Francisco in negotiations for water in 1937, that the district here would extinguish free water rights wherever possible and take over the distribution of water.

Under the terms of the agreement with the Ellsworth Estate Company the water district delivers the water to a specified point and it is up to the estate company to provide for the distribution.

THREATENING OF OFFICERS CHARGED

A charge of exhibiting a revolver in a rude, angry and threatening manner has been filed here against Lawrence Oliveira of 787 Olive Street, Newark.

According to Captain Richard Condon, officer in charge of the Washington Township sheriff's substation, two sheriff's deputies went to Oliveira's home to serve some civil action papers. Oliveira is alleged to have answered his wife's summons to the door armed with a revolver.

Bail has been set at $250 and he will appear before Judge Allen G. Norris in Justice Court today at 1:30 p.m. for arraignment.

STEEL GRANTED LOCAL SCHOOLS

OOPS! A CASE OF MISTAKEN IDENTITY

When a strange man appeared at her door one day recently and suggested that she stock her garden pool with fish, a township housewife objected vehemently to the procedure.

The man retired as gracefully as possible, leaving the pamphlet with the request that she read it.

A few hours later the housewife called the office where the man works to apologize, explaining that she thought he was a fish salesman.

He actually was a representative of the Alameda County Mosquito Abatement District crew attempting to help rid the area of mosquitoes.

LOCAL COMMUNITY CHEST FAR SHORT OF $8,100 GOAL

The possibility that activities of youth organizations dependent upon funds from the Washington Township Community Chest might have to be curtailed here was advanced this week by officers of the local Chest.

It was revealed that less than half of the goal of $8,100 has been raised in the current annual fund-raising campaign.

A total of $5,790 of the $8,100 needed here has been requested for the coming year's operation of the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and the two youth centers of the township.

Although considerable contributions are yet to be turned in by the volunteer solicitors, there appears to be little doubt but what the campaign will fall far short of the budget requested by the seven participating organizations.

Residents of the township who have not been contacted by the volunteer solicitors are urged to do their part toward making the drive successful by mailing their donations to their community chairmen or turning them in at any one of the local banks.

All solicitors are urged to complete their rounds and turn in their packets to their community chairmen by this week-end.

HOME TALENT SHOW THRILLS AUDIENCE

A near-capacity crowd enjoyed a hilarious evening at Irvington last night at the first of a two-night showing of the musical comedy, "Going Places."

The show, staged at the Irvington school under the auspices of the Irvington Chamber of Commerce, is directed by Miss Virginia Baker of the Empire Production Company.

The cast, made up of all local residents, is jam-packed with many surprise acts revealing heretofore undiscovered talent.

The final performance will be presented at 8:15 tonight with a capacity audience anticipated.

NILES CHAMBER PLAN DECORATIONS

Fund-raising for the decoration of the Niles business section for the holidays will be undertaken shortly by the Niles Chamber of Commerce. President E. A. Quesada this week appointed Peter D. Juhl, Clifford Dennis and Vernon Ellsworth to contact merchants for contributions to finance the decorations.

At Tuesday's meeting of the Chamber a letter from the Division of Highways was read in which it was stated that the Division agrees with the Chamber that the highway between Niles and Hayward should be four lanes, and that a survey will be made to determine the advisability of reducing traffic speed at the intersection at the entrance to Niles Canyon.

Both of these suggestions were communicated to the Division recently by the Chamber.

INFANT SNATCHED FROM DEATH UNDER WHEELS OF TRAIN

An 18-months-old baby girl was snatched from death beneath the wheels of a moving freight train in the Southern Pacific yards at Niles about 4 p.m. yesterday.

The infant, little Joan Hoglen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hoglen, was en route home across the tracks from the business section of Niles accompanied by her sister Sandie, 19.

After waiting for some time for the parked train to move, the two girls began crawling under one of the freight cars.

Just as the older sister was clear of the tracks and the infant was midway between the rails the train began moving forward.

The older sister was forced to let go of the hand of the infant by one of the moving wheels.

Two of the cars passed over the frightened little figure huddled between the rails before the sister could risk her life and reach in between the wheels to jerk the baby to safety.

THIS WEEK'S QUIZ MAY SURPRISE YOU

How well are you doing on The Register's "Guess Who" guessing game? Were you able to identify E. C. Parks, Niles realtor, in last week's quiz?

If any Register readers have any suggestions on interesting personalities (little known facts about well-known township people) we would be glad to hear them.

See how well you can do on this week's "Guess Who." If you can't identify him, you can find the answer in the pages of this paper—either in the classified section, the ads, or in the editorial matter.

GUESS WHO?

This man studied for the priesthood. He was with the Franciscan fathers for five years at Santa Barbara and for one year at Fruitvale. He suffered an eye injury in a baseball game and consequently had to give up the idea of being a priest as it was difficult for him to read.

He came to Washington Township in 1909 to replace a man by the name of Frank Hurd who suffered an injury as he was building a windmill. This led on to a profitable business here in the township that he operated for many years.

He is a civic leader, speaks three foreign languages—Spanish, Portuguese and German—has one son and five granddaughters.

His favorite recreation is fishing.

GUESS WHO!

WATER DISTRICT PROTESTS POLLUTION FROM CAMP

Protest against the pollution of water by sewage from Camp Parks near Pleasanton was registered this week by the Alameda County Water District at an informal hearing in Oakland on Wednesday before the regional committee of the state Water Pollution Control Board.

Representing the directors of the district at the hearing was W. D. Patterson. According to information by an officer of the Air Force, there are no funds for correcting the pollution problem. This would involve piping the sewage from Camp Parks to the bay, expense of which would be extremely high.

A further hearing on the problem has been planned, but no date has been arranged.

A HEALTHY PLACE

Washington Township was a healthy place during the week ending November 3, according to the Alameda County Health Department.

Dr. James C. Malcolm, health officer, revealed that not one case of a contagious disease was reported during that week.

Newark, Decoto Principals Win Appeals in Washington

Two Washington Township elementary school principals made a hurried trip to Washington, D. C., last week to carry on their fight for steel for the construction of new school buildings here and won federal clearance for the projects.

The two men are J. I. MacGregor, superintendent of the Newark School District, and L. W. Musick, superintendent of the Decoto School District.

Neither school had previously received high enough priority to allow them to progress with their building program of additional, badly needed classrooms. Each had been given county and state clearance but were halted from further progress because they were unable to obtain authorization from the National Production Authority to purchase the necessary steel.

EARLY APPOINTMENT

MacGregor, accompanied by A. B. Morris, superintendent of the Castro Valley Schools, left Oakland via train last Saturday evening to make a personal appeal before the federal authorities in Washington.

They arrived in Washington at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday and were able to arrange an appointment at the Department of Education for 10 a.m. that same day.

"At the end of the first hour's conference with the head of the department absolutely nothing had been accomplished," MacGregor stated. "As a matter of fact I was told that they considered our priority too high."

MacGregor produced a letter from the San Francisco office of the Federal agency giving approval for the construction to start, dated in July, before the present priority system was established. He explained that the district had gone ahead with its plans, at great expense, based upon the assumption that the agency would stand behind its commitment.

The point was won and the final papers clearing the way for the construction of the Newark School were handed MacGregor on Wednesday afternoon.

MAKES FLYING TRIP

The return trip was started the following evening, but not before he had called Musick at Decoto informing him of the success of the mission.

Musick immediately departed via plane for Washington and was able to win federal clearance for all three of his building projects.

The Decoto district was granted steel for the construction of a new ten-classroom school to be constructed to the north and adjacent to Hillview Crest Tract; ten new classrooms to replace the present Decoto school, and completion of units at the new Bernard School.

BUSINESS HEAVY AT SUBSTATION

In its first three weeks of operation here the Washington Township sheriff's substation has handled an all time record number of cases for this area, it was revealed this week by Captain Richard Condon, officer in charge.

Condon revealed that the staff of officers at the substation here have recovered approximately $10,000 in stolen property, have investigated and caused to be filed 13 felony charges, have written up more than 100 miscellaneous reports and investigated a large number of complaints. During the past week-end 126 calls were made to the local substation all requiring some action.

He cited the fact that the number of felonies, 13, shows a great increase over the total of 60 for this area during the entire year of 1949.

SCHOOL HOLIDAYS

Students of the public schools of the township will enjoy two vacations away from the classrooms during the remainder of this month.

The schools will be closed Monday in observance of Armistice Day and on Tuesday, November 20, will close for the remainder of the week for a teachers' institute and the Thanksgiving vacation.

NILES WILL HAVE NEW BAPTIST CHURCH BUILDING

Construction is scheduled to start next week on a new Baptist Church in Niles, according to Rev. Robert G. Kay, pastor.

The new church will be constructed on a one-acre parcel of land owned by the congregation on Fremont Avenue, approximately 150 yards east of the International Kitchen on the opposite side of the highway. The land was recently purchased from Frank Rose.

The building will be of frame construction covered with stucco. The main auditorium building will be approximately 42 by 100 feet. Another building, 30 by 50 feet, is to be started first and will be used until the auditorium is finished. The smaller building will then become the education and recreation wing of the church.

The church auditorium will have a capacity for 400 persons and, if the community continues to grow, a balcony capable of seating 100 more persons will be added.

The Baptist Church was founded here two years ago under the guidance of Mr. and Mrs. Truett Kolb and now has a membership of 71, according to Rev. Kay. Services during this time have been held in a building on I Street.

A great portion of the material and labor for the new church has been donated, Rev. Kay said.

LOCAL CHOIR WILL SING IN OAKLAND

The choir of St. James Episcopal Church, Centerville, is to sing for the vesper service at St. Paul's Church, Oakland, the largest Episcopal Church in the bay area, at 5 p.m. Sunday.

Rev. James Crosson, pastor of St. Paul's Church, heard the local choir sing last June and invited them to sing in the Oakland church. The invitation was renewed and accepted this fall.

The choir of 25 voices under the direction of Harold Melling of Oakland, will sing: "Praise the Lord O Jerusalem," "The King of Love My Shepherd Is," "All in an April Evening," "Hold Thou My Hand," solo by Douglas Mayock; "The Lord is My Shepherd," "Bless This House," "Teach Us to Pray" and "He Shall Reign Forever."

DAY BY DAY IN DECOTO

By GRACE CAMINADA

REMEMBER THE DAY!

Before I continue, I want to say, as much as I regret it, I am one of those who can't give their blood so that another may live. But what about you others? As they say this isn't a war but day after Grace Caminada ter day our boys are wounded or killed by fighting for independence of the Koreans and for defending the rights of ourselves and many others. Yes, many boys are being wounded that need not only one pint but many more so that they can survive. Could we live with our conscience if we knew somewhere in far away lands, a wounded soldier, perhaps someone dear to us, had to be told, "No, I'm sorry, but there isn't any plasma for you; the people back home didn't have the time to donate this month." Let's not be guilty of such a thing. Let's give to save—it may be someone dear to you—it may be one of the kids from your own neighborhood. Giving blood is so little compared to what they are doing. Remember, Nov. 19th and this month it will be at the Niles Grammar School, is the next Blood Day. Let's make it a good showing from Decoto. The hours will be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Don't disappoint our boys—they haven't disappointed us.

David Arribas of 167th Avenue in San Leandro.

Another girl delivered was Cathy Margo Mares, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Benjamin Mares of 415 Whipple Road. Cathy was born on October 30 and weighed 7 pounds and 8 ounces.

A GOOD TIME

The annual pet parade for Halloween was not held this year but instead the classrooms held parties and the pupils wore their masks and costumes appropriate for the occasion. Many of the mothers also attended and everyone had a very good time.

FIRE DAMAGE

Approximate damage of $3500 resulted from a fire last Thursday at the home of Clifford Watkins. The origin of the fire was not determined. Family pictures, literature and religious books were among the things destroyed.

REPORT CARD DAY ANGUISH ELIMINATED

FAILING GRADES ARE NO LONGER SHOWN

If the experiment now being tested by the Alameda County Superintendent of Schools' office works out school children will no longer dread the day that report cards are due for the new type of report cards will not show any bad grades.

Dr. Vaughn Seidel, county superintendent of schools, said this week that the new report card for optional use in county elementary schools has been proposed to refrain from marking children down who do not keep pace with the class.

The new report form was developed after extensive research begun three years ago when Dr. Seidel appointed a committee under the chairmanship of Edward Benton, county schools psychologist.

TWO SCHOOLS OF THOUGHT
Foremost among the problems to be considered was the fact that there are two opposing schools of thought concerning report cards.

The first utilizes report card marks for rewarding or punishing the child, depending upon his school performance. This view emphasizes competition among students.

The second advocates the use of the report card to promote security and self-confidence in the child which will lead to a more full and adjusted adult life.

"Most report cards are an attempt to compromise between these two views which have proven to be incompatible," Dr. Seidel states.

Experimentation by several school districts during the past three years of this study revealed that school reports give more encouragement if they do not stress competition and if parent-teacher conferences are substituted to eliminate the disgrace of poor marks.

CONFERENCES NECESSARY
Such conferences enable both the parents and teacher to arrive at a better understanding of the child and any problems he may have which restrict his progress.

Expanding on this point of view the committee chairman stated: "A child of elementary school age should not be humiliated by experiencing repeated failures in school before he has had a chance to gain some sense of security. Children draw their main supply of energy to study from a feeling that they are worthwhile and that adults approve of them. If adults take this secure feeling away from the child, then he becomes dispirited and finds little energy to apply to his lessons."

NO COMPARISON
The new report card views the youngster as an individual with his own rate of growth rather than comparing his progress with that of his classmates.

It eliminates failure marking by making it clear that any lack of normal progress is due to some interference with the learning in that child. It then becomes the responsibility of both the parents and the teacher to discover the nature of that interference.

The committee pointed out that observations will tend to lead both parents and teachers to helpful solutions of common personality problems.

Mr. John Reis, who is very ill, is getting well at the Hayward Hospital. We wish Mr. Reis a speedy recovery.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

A very eerie time was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dean last Wednesday at a "Haunt the Creek" Halloween party. The decorations were made by Alice, Pauline and Opie Dean, which made the party very successful. All the mothers helped furnish and serve the refreshments. The costumes that were worn by the guests were: Michael Dean, tramp; Patty Dean, witch; Mary Ellen Wheeler, Puss in Boots; Betty Wheeler, gypsy; Johnnie Tibbits, cowboy; Mary Tibbits, Spanish girl; Victoria Pauline, native girl; Michael Pauline, red devil; Ernie Rogers, pirate; Karen Rogers, witch; Christine Santos, owl, and

We were surprised to hear that Joseph Santos, who hasn't been away from home more than three days, has left to spend a week at Auburn, along with his wife, Helen, at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Molly and Arthur Steele. Also up to Auburn for the week-end were Barbara and Mervin Santos, Peter, Elva and Midgie Brayovich. The country up that way is exceptional beautiful, so we know that Joe and Helen will have a wonderful time.

Thinking Things Over...

By VIVIAN BATMAN

THIS 'N THAT

Golfing enthusiasts will be glad to hear that some smart inventor has devised a set of scientifically matched golf clubs on a single shaft. The entire outfit weighs only three pounds, and by means of an interchangeable club head can be welded into a solid one-piece unit with a twist of the wrist.

A boy I know very well was watching his mother cook dinner the other night. Having just learned in some science class in school about trichinae, he hovered over the pork chops that were being cooked from the time they went into the pan until they were deposited on the table.

"You've got to cook pork very done," he said importantly. "Otherwise we'll all get trichinosis."

The boy was so impressed with his new-found knowledge of the cooking of pork, that his mother didn't have the heart to tell him that she had known about how to cook pork chops ever since she was twelve years old, and how did HE think he's stayed alive all these years if his mother didn't know how to cook pork, inasmuch as he'd been eating pork in some form or another ever since he was about six months old.

At most Niles Rotary ladies night parties, the crowd has been divided. There are those who do things, and those who watch the others do things. This gives everybody plenty of conversational material.

I wasn't present at last Saturday night's party, but apparently there was no division in the crowd this time. Either everybody was doing things, or nobody was doing anything. Because there was very little to talk about except that everybody—with a few exceptions—said that they had a good time.

VFW AUXILIARY WILL BE FORMED AT IRVINGTON

Certainty that a VFW Auxiliary of the Joseph and Stanley Bernardino Post at Irvington will be formed was expressed Wednesday evening at a meeting of wives, mothers and sister of the members of the post.

Mrs. Walter Roethlin, whose husband is the newly elected commander of the post, said yesterday that a minimum of 15 women are needed to sign up before a charter can be received.

All wives, mothers and sisters of men who have served overseas in the armed forces, or former service women, are urged to attend the next meeting on Nov. 28 at Roethlin's Cafe in Irvington.

IMPORTANT MEETING AT NEWARK CENTER

An SOS is being issued by the Newark Cub Scout committee for den mothers. With 50 more children in Newark reaching Cub age, the need for den mothers is critical. Unless the need is met the committee members are dubious about the outcome of Cub Scouting in Newark.

With this end in view, a fall round-up meeting for parents will be held at the Youth Center tonight (Friday) at 8 o'clock. Cubs also are welcome to attend, although it is the parents who are especially urged to be present.

Andy Anderson, Boy Scout district executive of the new Southern Alameda County Scout District, will be present at the meeting to outline the Cub program.

TOWNSHIP PEOPLE RATE HIGH PRAISE

"It's a privilege to live in Washington Township," said Mrs. W. L. McWhirter this week, upon returning from the south where she went to be with her son, Tom, who was stricken with infantile paralysis.

"I didn't know there were so many wonderful, wonderful people here until this tragedy struck our family," she continued. "The letters, and phone calls of sympathy simply poured in from those here in the township offering to do anything they could to help. We certainly appreciated it — more than we can ever say."

Dr. and Mrs. McWhirter's son, Tom, was stricken with polio six weeks ago and is confined in an iron lung at the Rancho Hospital near Santa Monica. His eighteen-months-old baby, David, was also stricken with the disease but doctors say he will be fully recovered in six months time.

Mrs. McWhirter said that her son's morale is good, and he is encouraged by the fact that he can now move his left leg from side to side. It is not known at this time how long he will have to be confined in the iron lung.

BEARCATS CONTINUE
LEAGUE VICTORIES

The Centerville Bearcats added their third straight league victory to their string Sunday by defeating the Old Heidelberg Club 9 to 8 at Greenman Park.

Manager Frank Mayer's Cats ran up an early lead of 7 to 1 in the first three innings but were unable to hold the pace and the Heidelberg Club closed it up to 8-8 going into the last of the eighth inning.

Centerville came back in their half of the eighth to put across the winning run when Marshall walked, stole second and scored on Stan Roderick's single.

John Garcia hurled the first seven innings for the Cats, giving up five runs on nine hits while walking five and chalking up seven strikeouts. He tripled in the second inning with the bases loaded to run up the lead and lead the club in runs batted in.

Gary Silveira took over the mound duties in the eighth but was chased when he was touched for two runs on three hits and gave one charity base on balls.

Stan "Pull 'Em Out" of the Fire" Roderick took over and retired the side and finished out the game.

Harold Farris led the team at bat with three singles in three tries, followed by Don Lemos with two for four.

This Sunday the Cats play United Railroad Workers at McConnell Field in a league game called for 2 p.m.

Local Squads Lead League;
Final Home Games Tonight

The Washington High Huskies and Puppies, both at the top of the Santa Clara Valley Athletic League standings, will meet the powerful Los Gatos elevens tonight for the final home game of the gridiron season.

If Coach Jud Taylor's Huskies and Coach Irv Hird's Puppies can dump Los Gatos tonight and defeat Lick in San Jose next week, they will accomplish something that no other Washington squads have been able to do—win twin crowns in the gridiron league.

However, both this week's and next week's contests will be as tough as the local lads have encountered all season.

Coach Hird's "Comeback Kids" came from behind again last Friday to nose out Fremont 13 to 12. The Puppies trailed 12 to 0 with eight minutes remain in the game, but staged two scoring drives which turned almost certain defeat into victory.

A pass from Martinez to Pineda accounted for the first Puppy score with Martinez smashing the line for the important extra point. "Cookie" Senn scampered 12 yards for the second touchdown which spelled victory for the lightweights.

The Huskies, playing their best game of the season, outpointed the determined Fremont Indians 34 to 24 in a high-scoring game.

Big Joe Alexander elbowed his way to two touchdowns in the opening quarter and Rich Duarte added the extra points. Jim Manson of Fremont chalked up one touchdown for the Indians, giving the Huskies a 14-6 advantage going into the second quarter.

The Indians rallied in the second stanza to score twice but Martinez, on a fake hand-off to "Coco" Rivera, returned an Indian punt 60 yards to score, and Martinez broke away for a 20-yard dash to add the second T.D. Duarte split the uprights to give the Huskies a 28-18 advantage at half-time.

Lloyd Davis, hefty right tackle for the Huskies, got a thrill seldom afforded a lineman, when he scooped up an Indian fumble in the third period and dashed 30 yards to score.

Manson tallied once more for the Indians in the final quarter. Statistics would bear out that the Huskies will enter tonight's game as the underdog. Los Gatos defeated Santa Clara 26 to 7 last Friday. In the league season opener the Huskies scored but a 14-7 win over Santa Clara.

GRIDIRON TROPHY

The Alvarado Elementary School football team won the playoff of the Washington Township Class A League on Monday afternoon by defeating Centerville 19 to 0 on the Niles field.

The season had ended in a three-way tie between Alvarado, Newark and Centerville.

In the first round of play Coach John Bond's team of Alvarado defeated Newark 19 to 0 last Thursday at Irvington.

Other teams in the league are Niles and Irvington.

The type of game played by the elementary school youngsters is called "Flag" football. It is played with a team of nine men and the players wear "flags" tucked into their belts on each side. A defensive player must jerk the flag off the ball carrier to be considered a tackle.

NEWARK MODELERS
IN LINE FOR TROPHY

Ronald, Kenneth and Clifford Andrus, Gordon Kibby, and L. E. Scott of the Newark Model Builders are attending a three weeks' course in judging model airplane maneuvers that began with a meeting at Martinez last Sunday. The course is being conducted by the Western Associated Modelers. The Club has received word recently that out of 214 beginners points, posted during the second six months of this year, they are leading with 56 points. Martinez is second with 45 points. This confirms the fact that the trophy to be awarded by the West Coast Association in January will be given to the Newark Model Builders.

Club T-shirts have been ordered for all members and should arrive soon. The emblem on the shirts is an original drawing by Mrs. Beth Andrus.

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR BOWLERS

Another victory was chalked up Monday night for the Washington Township Sportsmen's Club Ladies Bowling Team with a 3 win, and 1 loss.

The game that was lost included 17 tough splits for the girls; otherwise this could have been their fourth win, for they were short only 24 pins.

Evelyn Santana starred for the girls again by rolling a 201 game, and winning for herself a dinner for two at the Club Lanai in San Jose for high game of the evening.

The losing team was Herschel Canning Company.

Here's an easy way to check the lubricant in your differential. It works as shown in the diagram below.

The easiest way we know of keeping those spiral bevel and hypoid gears in good condition is to use RPM Multi-Service Gear Lubricant.

It keeps a tough, protective film on gear teeth. Contains an anti-foaming agent that controls leakage due to product expansion. RPM Multi-Service Gear Lubricant won't corrode metal, resists oxidation; stands up under extreme pressures. Call us about it. We'll fill your order fast; for service is the keynote of our local business.

TWO MEN HURT IN NILES CANYON CRASH

A San Jose truck driver and a hitch-hiker riding with him were injured Saturday in a mishap in Niles Canyon.

The truck driver, Edgar Bailey, told officers that a passenger car crowded him off the highway at the underpass one mile east of Niles. The truck crashed through a guard rail and went down into Alameda Creek. He received facial lacerations and his passenger, William Prophet of Philadelphia, suffered a broken arm.

Private funeral services were held from the parlors of the Chapel of the Palms in Centerville on Monday. Interment was at Holy Ghost Cemetery.

SCHOOL CARNIVAL GROSSES $900

The fourth annual Washington High School P.T.A. Carnival, held last Saturday evening at the school, was termed the "best ever" by the capacity crowd.

The spectators spent an enjoyable early portion of the evening trying their luck at games of skill.

Promptly at 10 p.m. Judge E. A. Quaresma of Mission San Jose placed the crown on Miss Josephine Hernandez of Decoto, a member of the Sophomore class at Washington High, proclaiming her Queen of the Carnival. Her attendants, who were runners-up in the ticket selling contest, were Beverly Venturi of Warm Springs, Elaine Souza of Niles and Becky Overacker of Mission San Jose.

The remainder of the evening was spent dancing.

Bryce Phillips and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hindmarsh, co-chairmen of this year's carnival, reported that the gross receipts totaled more than $900.

Each Thursday we have orchestra at 3 p.m. We have 13 in the orchestra. They include: Joanne Reis, piano; Marilyn Rodriguez, violin; Jerry Semas, saxophone; Patsy Overacker, accordion; Ronald Masuda and Lola Loftin, clarinets; Richard Vargas, Andy Millard and David Olsen, trumpets; Harold Gene Hill, Alf Olsen and Michael Dean, trombones, and Michael Overacker, drums. HOME Garden SECTION Miniature Yosemite

Leif Glomstad Used Rocks, Roots, to Make Delightful Outdoor Fairyland

Editor's Note: Magazine California recently stumbled onto a miniature Yosemite 20 feet by 20 feet, a cool green oasis smack against a dry rocky hillside in Southern California.

In the shadows of pine and redwood a tiny brook glistened on mossy rocks, whispered through ferny ledges and dropped, singing to shaded pools below, gathered itself again to feed a deep lil' pool set with coves and islands. It was the kind of place where you walked quietly and looked for deer lying in the fern shade, and fish in the sweet cool recesses. We found them too.

It was man-made—it had to be, in that spot—but if the birds suspected they gave no sign of resentment for they chose this spot for nesting. For the Visitor it is Yosemite or Sequoia, New England or a shady Ontario spring. For the man who built it represents section and comfort—plus the satisfaction that comes from combining artistry with generous nature to produce true beauty.

Since we thought our readers might like to try something similar we asked the builder, Mr. Leif Glomstad, to tell us how he did it. Here, in his own words, is his blueprint:

By LEIF GLOMSTAD
Coming to Laguna Beach from Norway I was used to surroundings of virgin forests, lakes and rivers. My wife came from Oregon. Here we located ourselves on a bare hillside on which we saw the possibility of developing a unique place.

After grading and paving houses, placing them far apart so that each would have a private setting. The beginning of our development was to cover the bare hillside with trees, shrubs and flowers.

Our patio was visualized step by step. First the large trees were planted; an Oregon pine, a Deodora and a Coastal Redwood. Just below this we had planted tree, Nectarine and Apricot tree. When the trees had grown some, I graded out a level place from the hillside and covered it with a slab of cement. The water was piped to the upper level in readiness for the miniature waterfall, with a pool at its base. This pool has a two inch drain to the avocado trees below.

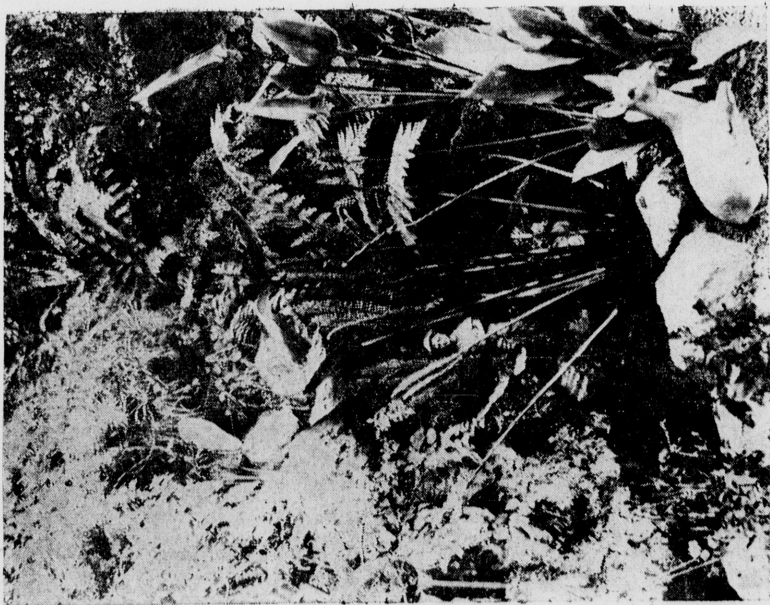

Don't Buy Them—Find Them
For years we have been collecting beautiful rocks for ornamental purposes. Every Sunday drive, or each vacation trip added more rocks to our collection. Some of these are quite large. All I could possibly lift. For the background of these rocks, I first lined the bank with cement blocks, so there could be no cave-ins. After this began the tedious but very interesting task of laying up the rocks to their best advantage. Dozens of rocks were cemented between the rocks for future planting. One secret in making such a fall and pool, is to lay the rocks so that they will look natural in their new setting. I had some rocks with long narrow grooves which I placed so as to give the appearance of rocks worn down by many years of water.

Also it is important to make the water fall so as to give natural sounds. This can only be done by experimenting. Sometimes I had to add a small pile of cement, so the water collected before dropping to the next ledge. I also installed a valve, so that the water can be turned on or off. We can hear the rush of early spring or the slow drip of fall. On a main fall I led around the center, the other I led down the side, making the last drop directly into the pool from one of the rocks with the natural grooves in it.

The pool I built the irregular kidney shape, lining it with cement and outlined with rocks. At the deepest part next to constructed an island with volcanic rocks, making it irregular with coves. Into this we planted a fern under which stands a ceramic flamingo.

Barefoot Boy
All the pockets were planted with maidenhair fern, ornamental fern, trailing lobelia and bright fuchsias with a border of baby-tear moss between the pool and the patio floor. On one little ledge stands a statue of a little barefoot boy fishing. As there is no hook on the line the gold fish play with the string. Other ledges hold miniature figures of birds or huts.

To one side of the pool under the graceful limbs of the redwood and sword ferns, lies the figure of a little deer, so natural that children think it is real. The cement slab is now well shaded by the trees, but we still have it partially enclosed with redwood lattice and a roof of palm branches as a shelter for the 15 or 16 tuberos begonias that do so very well in this location. We have both potted ones and hanging baskets. A redwood picnic table and benches, lounge and chairs complete this restful retreat.

From this patio we have entered seclusion. Our only vista is opposite the pool, overlooking the avocado trees and one big elderberry tree that we have purposely cultivated for a "food tree" for the birds. And across the canyon a grove of eucalyptus trees lend to the scene.

Above the falls we have a dense growth of hibiscus, oleander, banana and geraniums that form a colorful background between the two large trees. Sword ferns and wild roses fill in the base.

Fresh Fig Storage Told

Problems in storage of fresh figs—a major product of Turkey—brought A. S. Ozbek, professor of horticulture in the University of Ankara, to the University of California Agricultural Experiment Station at Davis for a three months' residence.

Ozbek's research was directed by Dr. L. L. Claypool, of the pomology division, who is in charge of investigations on the storage of fresh fruits at the Davis Station. During the harvest season, the two men visited the main packing and precooling plants in the state to compare methods used in storing fruits common to both California and Turkey.

A. N. Ozbek, wife of the visiting professor, has been studying new methods of soil

Late Pruning for Fig Canker

Late pruning may materially reduce the spread of Kadota fig canker, says W. H. English, plant pathologist in the University of California Agricultural Experiment Station at Davis.

Starting in new pruning wounds, the disease causes serious damage, particularly in orchards of the Kadota variety, which are pruned heavily each year.

Spores (the seeds that cause disease) multiply very rapidly in damp weather. They are probably carried from a cankerous growth to new cuts in the wood by rain, tools, birds, and insects. While orchards may become infected within a relatively short period.

If pruning can be timed just before the trees begin to leaf, that is, near the end of the rainy season, spores will have less time to cause infection.

Immediately after pruning, the trees should be sprayed with Bordeaux or basic copper, English suggests. If this is not possible, pruning tools and wounds should be disinfected after each cut.

As a precaution, all prunings should be removed from the orchards and burned, he adds.

Control methods are still under investigation.

ALL-Around RAMBO

When Texas Admits a California Cowboy to the Roster of Immortals He Must Indeed Be a Superman.

By DON McMILLAN

At Salt Lake City, Utah, in 1947, Gene Rambo was riding a loaded outlaw bareback bronc. Just as the ride was completed the bronc plunged headlong into the arena and fence and bounced back dead a gutted rabbit. Gene was left hanging and bleeding on the wire fence top. We got him down from there as gently as was possible and got him to a doctor.

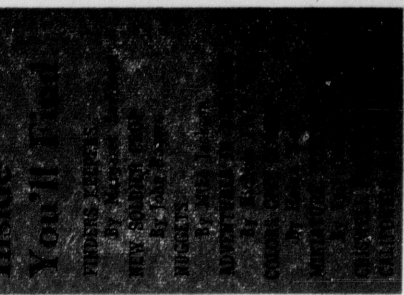

His shirt had been torn from his body, a fence barb had gashed a deep wound in the center of his palm and he had a dozen bruises and cuts on his chest and belly. Gene was a mess, and it seemed that he might be finished for the rodeo. Although I had known him from the days when he was a tough little kid, I didn't really know him until then. He borrowed an extra shirt I had in the car and went to work in three events that afternoon. That evening, when an ordinary athlete would have been nursing himself in bed, he took another three events. After that he sat around until 2 a.m. to collect his winnings, took a shower, loaded his horses and lost out in 1948 too. Gene broke his ankle riding his home range early in the season and got off

An Iron Man
In the summer of 1949, while completing a six-week tour of the western states and Canada, Gene left Monte Vista, Colorado, at 5 a.m. and pulled his horse in a trailer over the mountain range to Durango. He competed in four events at Durango that afternoon, came back and competed in four again that evening and even rode an extra saddle bronc that night to complete his part in the rodeo. Then he cleaned up and had a bite to eat, loaded his mounts into the trailer and drove to his ranch at Shandon, California—almost a thousand miles away—with only occasional stops to water and exercise the animals.
